FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Cleantech Law Partners and Shibolet Join Forces

Cleantech Law Partners and Shibolet Create Joint Venture to Serve the International Legal Needs of Renewable Energy and Cleantech Companies

SAN FRANCISCO and TEL AVIV, (September 4, 2014) Cleantech Law Partners (“CLP”) (www.cleantechlaw.com) and Shibolet & Co. (www.shibolet.com) today announced the formation of a new joint venture (“JV”) to serve the legal needs of renewable energy project developers and cleantech companies in the US and Israel. The JV will provide much needed cross-border expertise for renewable energy project developers, alternative energy investors, and cleantech companies.

Both firms have a strong focus on renewable energy and cleantech clients in their respective markets. CLP is the top renewable energy law firm in the US, and Shibolet is one of the leading full-service law firms in Israel. The JV will provide a great value to clients of both firms as they explore international business opportunities in the cleantech and renewable energy industries.

"Cleantech Law Partners has a vast amount experience in the renewable energy markets in the US. Its relationships and its commitment to the renewable energy industry make it a natural fit for our firm," said Orit Marom Albeck, a partner and the Head of Shibolet's Cleantech Practice Group. "This new venture will provide a strong platform for us to service our cleantech clients in the US," she added.

"Israel is an exciting new market for our firm," said Jack Jacobs, the founder and managing partner of Cleantech Law Partners. "We are looking forward to helping Israeli cleantech companies expand their operations
